

Case Study

Federal Government

The Department of Climate Change and Energy Efficiency (DCCEE) had a high profile program that required urgent and discreet consultancy assistance. A rapid audit and new strategy were requested by high level executives to respond to enquiries into the program. Due to the sensitive nature of this project specific details cannot be provided.

The Solution

Client	Department of Climate Change and Energy Efficiency
Issue	Source several Executive Level personnel to assist in the audit and act independently.
Source	Urgency and discretion called for additional high level executives to assist in a rapid audit.
Solution	Using a general service category suitable candidates would be sourced, assessed, engaged and selected accordingly for immediate implementation.
Result	Through a strong network and comprehensive database of candidates, highly skilled resources were delivered as required in a supremely fast and effective manner.

This task is a fine example of the vendor and client working collaboratively to deliver a solution that required high levels of technical expertise and within a compressed time frame whilst working under the radar. Connexion provided resources candidates that were trusted and tested in highly political and complex environments from our comprehensive database of candidates. Advertising was not inappropriate given the confidential nature of this task.
